CDOT

(Crown Dependencies and Overseas Territories International Tax Compliance Regulations)

In an unparalleled display of transparency and cooperation, governments around the world are signing agreements to automatically exchange financial information reported by key businesses particularly financial institutions. These alliances aim to cut down on tax fraud and maximize tax revenues by helping to identify account holders who may be investing money across borders to avoid paying taxes. Non compliance with these agreements, collectively dubbed the Automatic Exchange of Information (AEOI), can damage your reputation and result in customer churn and fines.

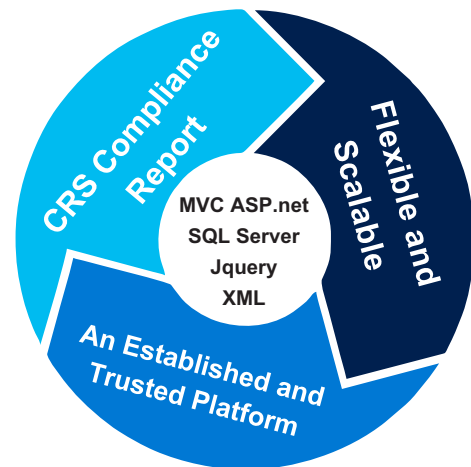

Automatic Exchange of Information (AEOI) solution offers intelligent compliance in 100+ countries.
